Thermoplay SpA

For many years Haidlmair and Thermoplay have been engaged in a successful business partnership. As a leading manufacturer of high quality moulds, Haidlmair needs to work with a producer of injection systems with a global range of services. This is where Thermoplay comes in. Together we are able to offer this kind of service on a global scale, which is the key to our long-term success with Haidlmair.

Thermoplay designs and manufactures a complete range of standard and specialised hot runner systems. These include complete hot half, temperature and sequential controllers, flow analysis as well as customised projects to meet any kind of requirement in the area of high technology injection moulding.

Working together, Haidlmair and Thermoplay are always one step ahead.
